

CAMERON P. HOFFMAN is Director of the Office of Ethics & Compliance for Symantec Corporation, overseeing compliance policies, trainings and approvals, along with employee awareness, third party risk management, and acquisition-related compliance integration. Ms. Hoffman also leads the Global Investigation Program at Symantec and is responsible for program architecture and reporting, hotline management and case oversight for dedicated investigators across the regional legal, HR, internal audit and security functions.

Prior to Symantec, Ms. Hoffman spent over seven years in the SEC's San Francisco Regional Office as an investigative attorney in the Enforcement Division. In this role, Ms. Hoffman conducted investigations in nearly every subject area of the SEC's enforcement program before joining the specialized FCPA Unit, where she led numerous significant corruption investigations in active coordination with other domestic and foreign regulators. Before joining the SEC, Ms. Hoffman was an associate at Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati. Ms. Hoffman graduated from Stanford University and Georgetown University Law Center.