EXPERIENCE

Priyanka Nawathe is an associate in the Boston office of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, where her practice focuses on corporate and securities law. She represents life sciences and technology companies throughout their business life cycle, including venture capital financings, corporate governance, and generally serving clients in a general counsel capacity.

Prior to joining the firm as an associate, Priyanka was a process specialist at Bayer Technology Services, where she focused on reliability engineering in a coatings, adhesives, and specialties unit and project management in a polycarbonate systems unit. She was also legal intern in the intellectual property group at Microsoft. During law school, Priyanka served as a director of projects for the Harvard Law Entrepreneurship Project, a student practice organization offering free legal advice to start-up companies in the community.
