EXPERIENCE

Ben Hawkins is an associate at Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, where he is a member of the technology transactions practice.

During law school, Ben was a member of the Entrepreneurial Law Clinic where he helped advise entrepreneurs from the Darden Business Incubator on matters related to business formation and intellectual property. Ben also worked as a research assistant at the Center for Biomedical Ethics and Humanities and interned for U.S. Magistrate Judge Joel Hoppe in the Western District of Virginia.

Prior to attending law school, Ben earned a master's degree conducting research on innovative conservation practices in Kenya. Ben also played in a cover band in Kenya, and remains an avid bass (guitar) player.

Ben is practicing virtually in North Carolina. He is admitted in the District of Columbia. He is not yet admitted in North Carolina and therefore not authorized to practice law in North Carolina.
