EXPERIENCE

Mike Casey is a dual-qualified, Chambers-ranked (Band 1) partner in Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati's London office. His practice focuses on advising clients on sanctions, export controls, anti-corruption, and anti-money laundering issues in investigations, counseling, and compliance matters. In addition, he regularly acts as a specialist in mergers, acquisitions, venture financings, lending arrangements, and other types of corporate transactions. He also frequently advises clients on the UK's National Security and Investment Act and other foreign direct investment review regimes.

Chambers UK noted that Mike is "a one-stop shop for global sanctions advice" who is "very responsive with his provision of highly commercial advice." The publication also described Mike as "one of the most experienced practitioners in the market" who "understands and takes into consideration any necessary complexities and understands the importance of commerciality when giving recommendations."

Mike has led numerous internal and government-initiated investigations involving potential violations of sanctions, export controls, anti-money laundering laws, anti-bribery laws, and fraud laws throughout the world. He has also represented individuals in pending and threatened litigation.

Mike regularly advises clients on a wide range of compliance issues. He works with clients to develop and implement state-of-the-art compliance programs, including corporate policies, training programs, and third-party procedures. Further, Mike assists clients with carrying out due diligence for many types of corporate transactions. He has successfully guided dozens of investors and companies through the NSI Act review process.

Prior to joining Wilson Sonsini, Mike was a partner in the London office of Kirkland & Ellis.

Mike is the author of Sanctions Enforcement and Compliance: A Practitioner's Guide to OFAC, a treatise published by Bloomberg BNA. Additionally, leading legal publications have published more than 45 of his articles. He has been quoted in numerous publications, including The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, and Global Investigations Review.
