EXPERIENCE

An accomplished trial lawyer and fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, Luis Li has led and played an integral role in numerous high-stakes, high-profile trials for a wide range of clients and has tried dozens of cases to verdict in state and federal courts across the country. Luis is consistently recognized in the Chambers USA guide, where his clients have described him as “Spectacular in court with a limitless pool of skills – down to earth and can talk to a jury” and as a “Top trial lawyer - just outstanding on his feet in front of a jury in court.” His experience includes complex business litigation, corporate crisis management, internal investigations, white collar criminal defense, and international enforcement matters. Luis has represented a variety of leading companies and individuals across a range of industries, including technology, biotech, aerospace, media and entertainment, sports, oil and gas, social media, and cultural institutions. His background as a former assistant United States attorney has served to establish him as a trusted advisor for the most complex cases and sensitive internal corporate investigations.

Luis has thrice earned California Lawyer “Attorney of the Year” (CLAY) Award honors, including for his complete victory at trial representing Vanessa Bryant in a federal civil rights trial against LA County; successful defense of Transocean, the owner of the Deepwater Horizon, in civil litigation arising from the Gulf of Mexico oil spill; and for the successful representation of the Norton Simon Museum in a long-running dispute over ownership of two paintings by Lucas Cranach the Elder.

Prior to joining Wilson Sonsini, Luis was a litigation partner in the Los Angeles office of Munger Tolles & Olson LLP. After starting his career at Munger Tolles, he rejoined that firm in 2005 following 10 years in public service. From 2002 to 2005, he was chief of the criminal branch of the Los Angeles City Attorney’s Office, where he directed one of the largest prosecutorial agencies in California. Previously, from 1995 to 2002, Luis served as an assistant U.S. attorney for the Central District of California, where he focused on complex, large-scale racketeering and organized crime matters. As deputy chief of the Major Crimes Section and Anti-Terrorism coordinator from 2000 to 2002, he oversaw the investigation and prosecution of organized crime and terrorist groups, including the successful prosecution of several international criminal organizations.

Following law school, Luis served as a law clerk for Judge Dickran Tevrizian of the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California.

Luis has summited Denali and has raced in the Transalp Challenge and La Ruta de los Conquistadores, both considered among the most challenging multi-stage mountain bike races in the world.

Recent Trials

- Secured a complete jury victory for microtransit leader Via in a patent litigation competitor case tried in the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas. After less than three hours of deliberation, the jury found that RideCo infringed three of Via’s patents on its virtual bus stop technology and ordered RideCo to pay damages, with total pretrial and ongoing damages to be determined. Via also prevailed against RideCo’s counterclaims, with the jury finding that Via did not infringe either of RideCo’s two asserted patents.
- Secured a complete jury victory for Inhibrx Biosciences and co-founder Dr. Brendan Eckelman in a high-stakes trade secrets case that Wilson Sonsini took on as lead counsel just six weeks before trial. I-Mab Biopharma alleged our clients misappropriated trade secrets when Dr. Eckelman served as an expert witness in an international arbitration. The jury returned a full defense verdict, finding that I-Mab had not proved any of its information was a protected trade secret or that Inhibrx or Dr. Eckelman misappropriated any of it, and awarding zero of the over $450 million in damages that I-Mab had sought.
- Secured a complete victory in the nationally covered jury trial on federal civil rights claims for Vanessa Bryant against the Los Angeles County Sheriff’s Department for the department’s illegal taking and sharing of photos of the victims of the helicopter crash that killed nine people, including Kobe Bryant and his 13-year-old daughter. National news coverage included, for example, The New York Times, LA Times, CNN, New York Post, and Rolling Stone. Also represented the Kobe Bryant Estate and co-lead the wrongful death suit against Island Express, the helicopter company that transported the passengers who died in the crash.

- Co-lead trial counsel in a four-month criminal trial defending Plains All American Pipeline, a Fortune 150 company, from a 46-count indictment brought by the Santa Barbara County District Attorney and the California Attorney General stemming from one of the largest oil releases in California history from a pipeline near Santa Barbara; following trial and years of motions practice in which over a dozen charges were dismissed, obtained dismissal or acquittal on knowing felony counts and Plains suffered a fine of 1/400th of that requested by the government*
- Trial counsel for the NCAA in a highly publicized case brought by a class of Division I college football and men's basketball players who asserted antitrust claims related to NCAA rules*
- Trial counsel for Transocean, owner of the Deepwater Horizon, in civil litigation arising from the BP oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico; following a months-long trial, the court delivered a complete defense verdict*
- Lead trial counsel for a founding partner of a talent management company in a dissolution action brought by his partners; after a months-long trial, the court delivered a defense verdict leaving the client in charge of the company*
- Lead trial counsel for James Ray, a self-help author, in the Arizona manslaughter prosecution against him for three deaths at a sweat lodge ceremony; a jury acquitted Mr. Ray of reckless manslaughter following a nationally televised trial*
- Lead trial counsel for Charles Roven, producer of Wonder Woman and Batman, among many other films, in a state criminal case and a federal civil matter arising out of the Zaca fire, among the largest wildfires in California history; criminal charges related to Mr. Roven's holding companies were dismissed in their entirety at preliminary hearing, while the civil matter was resolved within insurance policy limits*
- Trial counsel for Rhonda Byrne in a copyright suit challenging the Australian author's copyrights to The Secret, Simon & Schuster's all-time bestseller; a jury returned a complete defense verdict*
- Trial counsel for the president of sales of a publicly traded internet advertising company, who was charged in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California with conspiracy to inflate the company's revenues and with causing the company to have false books and records; after a two-week trial, despite the testimony of two executives who had pleaded guilty and were cooperating with the government, the jury acquitted Mr. Kaplan on all charges after two hours of deliberation*
