- Extensive In-House Transactional Experience
Seth has more than 16 years of experience serving as in-house counsel at a global pharmaceutical company, where he advised on an array of strategic transactions and managed a team of lawyers and business professionals responsible for implementing intellectual property and business development transactions.

EXPERIENCE

Seth Flaum is a partner in the New York office of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, where he is a member of the technology transactions practice. With more than 25 years of broad transactional experience, he represents life sciences companies in a wide range of strategic transactions and corporate matters.

Prior to joining the firm, Seth was the executive associate general counsel for Daiichi Sankyo, Inc., a global pharmaceutical company based in Japan, where he trained and managed a team of lawyers and business professionals responsible for implementing the company's global business development transactions. In this role, Seth counseled on strategic transactions, structuring, negotiating, and drafting strategic collaboration agreements, licensing agreements, research and development agreements, co-promotion agreements, commercialization agreements, option agreements, material transfer agreements, clinical trial agreements, CRO agreements, distribution agreements, manufacturing and supply agreements, and other transactions. He also has experience with public and private M&A transactions, and has advised on antitrust issues and filings, FINRA inquiries, SEC filings, and corporate governance matters.

Before joining Daiichi Sankyo, Seth was a senior associate at Ullman, Shapiro & Ullman, LLP in New York. Previously, he was general counsel at H&H Bagels, corporate counsel at Thompson Medical Company and Slim Fast Foods Company, and an associate at D'Erasmus, Shure & Perez in Rockville, Maryland.
