EXPERIENCE

Evan Burroughs is an associate in the Washington, D.C., office of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, where he counsels public and private technology and life sciences companies at all stages of growth. His practice focuses on corporate and securities law, including general corporate representation, venture capital financings, public and private mergers and acquisitions, and public offerings.

During law school, Evan worked as a law clerk in the firm's Washington, D.C., office, where he assisted in the representation of emerging companies. As a student at Georgetown University Law Center, Evan served as managing editor for the Georgetown Law Technology Review and worked as a student attorney for Georgetown's Health Justice Alliance Clinic. Prior to law school, Evan worked as a consultant, assisting with budget and acquisitions for United States Special Operations Command and the United States Navy.
