EXPERIENCE

Dani Glazer advises high growth start-ups and venture capital investment firms on a broad range of general corporate and transactional matters, including formation, financing, mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance, securities laws, and other areas of corporate law. Her clients operate in life sciences, cleantech, high tech, AI (including generative AI and machine learning), SAAS, crypto, web3, blockchain, consumer goods and more.

Dani has experience as in-house counsel at Emerson Collective, a social change organization and impact investor, where she strategically advised a wide variety of teams. Dani also has particular expertise in advising mission-driven companies and applying private business solutions to community economic development problems. For example, she has advised clients regarding becoming Public Benefit Corporations or obtaining “B Corp” certification, applying for 501(c)(3) tax exemption and/or pursuing fiscal sponsorship and transitioning to employee ownership.
