EXPERIENCE

Sarah Lane is a partner in the London office of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, where she is a member of the firm's tax practice. Sarah has a broad range of tax experience, having advised clients on UK, cross-border, and international tax matters, including with respect to venture capital, M&A, private equity, and fund formation transactions as well as financial restructurings and tax issues related to cross border financing.

Prior to joining Wilson Sonsini, Sarah was senior tax counsel at Simpson Thacher in London. Her previous experience includes working at both law firms and in tax consultancy including twelve years as a tax partner at a Big 4 firm, specialising in international tax and M&A across a range of sectors from technology to capital markets, and also advising on a number of complex tax disputes. She has written and presented on tax issues and participated in a number of working groups in relation to UK tax regime changes.
