EXPERIENCE

Yang Chu is a corporate partner in the Hong Kong office of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati. He has extensive experience advising clients on a broad range of corporate matters, including Hong Kong IPOs and follow-on equity and debt offerings, public and private M&A transactions and privatizations, and pre-IPO and cross-over financings. Yang also counsels Hong Kong-listed companies on post-listing compliance, corporate governance, executive compensation, and related regulatory matters.

Yang's practice is focused on clients in the healthcare, life sciences, technology, media, consumer, and retail sectors, including corporates and their respective founders, executives, and private equity and venture capital investors.

Prior to joining the firm, Yang was a capital markets partner in the Hong Kong office of another international firm.

Yang is fluent in both Mandarin and English, and is conversational in Cantonese.
