EXPERIENCE

Emily W. Powers is an associate in the Boulder office of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, where her practice focuses on a wide range of transactional and corporate matters. She advises both emerging growth companies and venture investors on general corporate matters, corporate governance, day-to-day operations, securities law compliance, and venture capital financings.

Prior to attending law school, Emily worked as a paralegal specialist at the U.S. Department of Justice in the Antitrust Division, where she later returned as a legal intern. She also worked as an analyst at Goldman Sachs, focusing on anti-money laundering compliance. During law school, Emily served as a judicial intern for The Honorable Beryl A. Howell of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia.
